FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: EXECUTIVE CHEF DAVID WOOD JOINS HUNTER HOUSE

Huntersville, NC – December 9, 2024 – Hunter House is proud to announce the appointment of David Wood as the new Executive Chef, effective December 2024. David Wood brings over two decades of culinary experience and a rich heritage from the Bahamas to our esteemed restaurant.

David Wood, born and raised in Nassau, began his culinary journey with the vibrant flavors and fresh ingredients of his homeland. He refined his skills at the Culinary Institute of America, graduating with honors, and further honed his craft in renowned kitchens. This exposure has enabled David to master a variety of cuisines and techniques, which he skillfully combines with his Bahamian heritage.

Known for his commitment to fresh, sustainable ingredients, David sources locally and supports local farmers and regional fishermen. His menus are celebrated for blending traditional Bahamian flavors with contemporary culinary techniques, creating unique and memorable dining experiences.

“We are excited to welcome David Wood to Hunter House,” said Ellen Loncz, owner of Hunter House. “His exceptional talent, experience, and dedication to sustainable practices align perfectly with our vision. We look forward to the innovative and exquisite dishes he will bring to our guests.”

David Wood began his role as a Lead Chef at Hunter House in 2018 and will assume his position as Executive Chef in December 2024. Join us in welcoming him and experiencing the extraordinary culinary creations that have made him a distinguished figure in the culinary world.

Hunter House specializes in farm-to-table, Southern-inspired cuisine. We are committed to culinary excellence and sustainability, offering an unparalleled dining experience that blends innovative dishes with impeccable service in a historic, sophisticated setting.
